BEHIND THE JOB: Cloud Support Specialist

🔍 What do they do?

Cloud Support Technicians assist users and organisations in managing cloud-based systems, troubleshooting issues, and maintaining reliable digital services. They work with platforms like AWS, Azure, and Google Cloud to support deployments, monitor performance, and ensure that cloud environments run smoothly and securely.

🔍 What are their strengths?

- Logical thinking and troubleshooting
- Strong communication and customer service
- Interest in cloud platforms and digital infrastructure

📖 How do they get started?

Start with a Certificate IV in Information Technology, networking, or cloud support. Vendor certifications like Microsoft Azure Fundamentals or Google Cloud Digital Leader can boost job readiness and open pathways to more advanced technical roles.
